The races were infelsed about half-past 7, and the spectasors had a half hour's wait for the train. Hereafter the events will be run more promptly, so that those attending can leave on the 620 train. It is probable, too, that the price of admission will be reduced, as the sim is to make the meetings popular in every sense. The storplechase was not run, as the rider of Jim was taken if I and no one could be found to take his place. A three-quarter dash was substituted. Following is a summary.
